2. Prioritize

- List how important each task is.....
  - i. 'A' Priorities: need to be done now!
  - ii. 'B' Priorities: can wait until 'A' tasks are done
  - iii. 'C' Priorities: can wait a while

(definition: prioritize means to organize things so the most important thing is done first)

See the next page for an example

Today is: January 19th

4. Evaluate

- After a task is complete, look back to see how time management worked for you
- Example: I earned a D on the Biology Test. I need to keep my grade at a B. This is not good.
  - Reflection: I crammed a lot to study for the test because I wanted to go to Janie's party.
  - Learned: I should have started studying vocab and lab sheets on January 25th and 26th so I was more prepared for the test.

- Example: I got an A on my Geometry Quiz. Woo-hoo!
  - Reflection: I went to ILT for help & studied for three days.
  - Learned: Going to ILT can help my understanding of the subject and my grade!

It is tempting to skip step 4 but it is EXTREMELY IMPORTANT! We need to re-use the strategies that work. If the strategy does not work we need to adjust it or try something new!
