Cross-Curricular Collaboration!

Ms. Smith's Media Art classes worked with one of Ms. Sturgis' Teacher Cadet students, Abigail Smith. Abigail was working with Ms. Courtney at the Creative Arts Elementary school as part of her Teacher Cadet experience. Ms. Courtney teaches a 4th grade Gifted and Talented class at Creative Arts. Abigail came up with a lesson for the students in which they listened to music as inspiration for writing their own poetry. Abigail approached Ms. Smith, the Media Arts teacher at Hilton Head Island High School. The collaboration between Ms. Smith and Abigail resulted in the high school students creating imagery based on the student's poems. The poems were not altered in any way, so the personality of the student writer would be captured.

The high school students explored illustration as a career; the 4th grade students received beautiful artwork with their poem printed and mounted, and Abigail experienced what it is like to develop cross-curricular lesson between grade levels.
